A New Sign Code Public Comment as Been Received!

The comment:

Good Afternoon,

I'm sorry that I am not able to attend any of the future meetings concerning the new sign code in the city of Surprise. I am concerned with one aspect of the new sign code, that I think warrants a comment here however. The right to use an A frame sign should continue in my business/professional opinion. I see A frame signs everywhere across Arizona as well as places that would be considered much more intrusive to business rights and liberties like California and many places on the east coast. Beach towns, ritzy towns, upscale, downscale, everywhere I go, A frames are used to solicit business for business owners. They are not downscale. When presented properly they can be portrayed as being rather glamorous! I was putting balloons on mine which I think cheered people up. Why would balloons be illegal? I remember an event where the city released thousands of balloons into the sky. I'm not releasing them after. Why? No one I asked so far, thinks that balloons and a frame signage should be illegal. Please rethink these revisions. Please don't hesitate to have me answer any questions you might have.

Thank you in Advance,
